TAKING A LOOK, BUILD A LIFE, MAKE A DIFFERENCE IN UPSTATE NEW YORK

Are you a medical student or physician resident thinking about your career path?

Join us for a 3-day all inclusive trip to Upstate New York to explore the opportunities!

In an effort to promote the opportunities for healthcare professionals in beautiful Upstate NY, the hospitals and communities of the Iroquois Healthcare Association (IHA) cordially invite you to come “Take A Look”!

The “Take A Look Tour” includes visits to at least four IHA member hospitals and several primary care physician practices and clinics. The itinerary provides opportunities for medical students and residents to “take a look” and learn about our hospitals, medical staffs, communities, and cultures in order to keep Upstate New York top of mind during the job search!

The Next Available Tour:
April 26–28, 2017—Central New York & Finger Lakes Region

Upon arrival, participants will be transported on a guided tour of each community and introduced to physicians and health care leaders. All travel expenses, including transportation, meals and two-nights luxury hotel accommodations will be provided.

Each tour is limited to a small group to allow for maximum interaction. Reserve your spot now and enjoy the beauty of spring in Upstate NY!

“I was very surprised with the many opportunities available in Upstate NY and it solidified my decision to ultimately move there. We met many physicians who are happy and enjoying their daily work in the community … It was truly an eye-opening experience.”
-2016 Take-A-Look Tour Participant

“Not only did the Tour showcase the opportunities in Upstate, it opened our eyes to primary care in general.”
-2014 Take-A-Look Tour Participant, Primary Care
